Intermediate Dentin Sealing: The 4th Dimension in Adhesive Dentistry

This presentation will explain the fundamental principles of dentin bonding to establish the ideal adhesive system and its optimal application mode. When using semi-(in)direct and indirect bonded restorations, a specific protocol is required, which involves applying the dentin adhesive and resin coating the tooth preparation before making the final impression for inlays/onlays/veneers and dentin-bonded crowns.

11 am – Noon

Sam Alawie

Photography Driven Case Design - A Fully Digital Approach to Designing Anterior Porcelain Reconstructions

Better understand the importance of having a proper initial photography protocol and how it translates to the master design for most smile reconstruction cases. This initial digital design produces extremely valuable information for dental technicians before the case begins. We will cover the basics in taking proper photography so that predictable digital design can be achieved with precise measurements.

Integrating Minimally Invasive Concepts in Complex Treatment Plans

AACD 2023 Texas attendees will be riveted as the legendary Dr. Frank Spear will share his wisdom on complex treatment plans. Clinicians are often faced with patient presentations that go beyond the simple decision of, does a tooth need a restoration or not? Those more difficult decisions often involve the decision to retain and restore a questionable tooth or teeth, or extract and place an implant.

All educators and courses are subject to change. Visit aacdconference.com for the latest information.

Master the latest techniques and explore the newest materials and methods with AACD's famous hands-on workshops. The best part? Your conference tuition includes two hands-on workshops! (Not valid for dental students.) Brought to you by top names in dentistry, you can't miss these interactive, hands-on sessions.

Accreditation Track

(not just for Members in the Process of Accreditation!)

Achieving Accredited status from the AACD requires dedication to continuing education, careful adherence to the protocols, and a resolve to produce exceptional dentistry. Even if you're NOT on an Accreditation journey, this track is all about setting the standard for excellence in cosmetic dentistry.

Whether you're ready to get started on your Accreditation journey at AACD Texas 2023, or you just want to advance your skills and knowledge, these special education tracks are for all dentists and technicians who aspire to achieve their full potential and reach the peak of esthetic excellence.

And you won't want to miss this chance to take the Accreditation written exam and required workshops, and to mix and mingle with the other dentists pursuing the coveted credential.

Whether you're in the Accreditation process or not, take your clinical skills and confidence to the next level by attending the Accreditation Super Sessions. AACD's Accredited and Accredited Fellow Members will deliver a series of fast-paced, educational, and motivating lectures covering each of the clinical case types.

Advanced Accreditation Workshop

Adamo E. Notarantonio
DDS, FAACD

The Advanced Accreditation Workshop provides an in-depth analysis of how Accreditation cases are evaluated, and is a great opportunity for participants to have their own cases reliably reviewed.

Attendees are encouraged to bring their cases to be reviewed in a safe environment.

Accreditation Workshop

Bradley J. Olson
DDS, FAACD

This course is the first of the two required workshops in the Accreditation process.

Criteria Workshop

Scott W. Finlay
DDS, FAACD, FAGD

This course is the second of the two required workshops in the Accreditation process.

Disclaimer: The American Board of Cosmetic Dentistry® does not endorse any particular clinical technique or style, nor does it endorse particular products or materials. It is acknowledged that Accreditation success is not dependent on the technique, or the materials used, but on the excellence of the final result.

The Accreditation Written Exam

Are you ready to start YOUR journey to excellence and set yourself apart? The Accreditation written examination is the first step in obtaining AACD's coveted credential. This written exam tests foundational knowledge in cosmetic dentistry. Individuals who are knowledgeable in all phases of cosmetic dentistry are expected to pass the written examination. The written examination is a multiple choice exam and will be administered at AACD 2023 Texas on Friday, April 28. When course selection opens, you can select the written examination. Let your star shine bright in Texas, and show your team, friends, colleagues, and patients just how talented you are!

The Art of What I Do: “Creating the Illusion of a Tooth”

The role of the ceramist in the delivery of highly esthetic ceramic restorations has been significantly and forever altered by the increased development and evolution of digitally created restorations. The first part of this presentation will cover

- (1) how to interpret shade information into a ceramic build-up,
- (2) ceramic layering techniques for creating the illusion of for a single restoration.

The second part of the presentation will cover the final touches of contour, texture, surface colorants, and polish to create an exceptionally esthetic result.
