AMERICAN ACADEMY OF COSMETIC DENTISTRY CHARITABLE FOUNDATION MISSION

The American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry Charitable Foundation’s (AACDCF) mission is to assist in rebuilding the lives and dignity of survivors of domestic violence through compassionate cosmetic dental services and support programs. Our program provides restorative and cosmetic dentistry in the smile-zone at no cost to qualified survivors through our nationwide network of volunteer cosmetic dentists and our support team of laboratories and dental manufacturers.

TO OUR SUPPORTERS

Dear Friends:

It is always an honor to share the accomplishments of the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry Charitable Foundation (AACDCF).

While we continue to focus our efforts on restoring damaged smiles of adult survivors of intimate partner violence through our Give Back a Smile (GBAS) program, this has also been an exciting year of strategy, transition, and efforts toward increasing national awareness of the GBAS program.

During this year of transition, the AACDCF's fiscal year was changed from July 1 – June 30, to November 1 – October 31. Therefore, this report reflects the Foundation's 16 month activity between July 1, 2012 and October 31, 2013. Also, in April 2013, the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry (AACD) welcomed its new Executive Director, Barb Kachelski. Barb brings an extensive background in association management and we are excited to have her on the AACDCF leadership team!

Throughout our extended fiscal year, we are pleased to share that 113 eligible survivors of intimate partner violence were referred to generous volunteer dentists across the United States, to restore their damaged smiles. Many of these patients are still receiving dental restoration treatments and will soon have the life-changing opportunity to view their newly restored smiles for the first time.

There were 114 GBAS smile restorations completed for a total value of $1,498,407 in donated dental services. We were also able to provide two GBAS program recipients each with a $2,000 scholarship for higher education. Thanks to your support, we look forward to increasing our scholarship funding for GBAS program recipients in the future.

Our Foundation leadership team is dedicated to fulfilling all of our philanthropic efforts with high regard to ethics and values. In carrying out our mission, interacting with our volunteers, donors, GBAS program applicants and Foundation staff, the AACDCF embraces and has now formalized the following values:

INTEGRITY:

We approach all situations and stakeholders with respect, transparency, and we uphold the highest level of moral and ethical standards. We respect the confidential nature of our GBAS patient work and actively strive to protect program applicant information.

GENEROSITY:

Our success depends on the generosity of our volunteers and supporters. We foster a culture that honors and recognizes those who make our work possible.

“ It feels so great to be able to smile with an open mouth rather than having to cover it with my hand. ”
—GBAS Recipient

PEACE:

We believe that everyone deserves to live a life that is free of danger and violence. While we work to heal the effects of domestic violence, we also strive to promote awareness about domestic violence in hopes of stopping it.

COMPASSION:

We have a strong desire to provide our services in a caring and empathic manner by actively working toward understanding what our program applicants have survived.

COMPLIANCE:

We recognize that the organization operates in a regulated environment by virtue of its tax exempt status under section 501(c)(3) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code and are conscious of the need to comply with the constraints and obligations of that status.

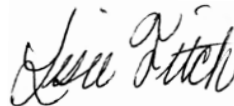

Much focus has surrounded planning for the Foundation's near and distant future. We are committed to strategizing our efforts around: Charitable Impact, Volunteer Value, Financial Success, and Foundation Awareness.

We are dedicated to restoring the smiles and lives of survivors of intimate partner violence, and allocating resources to increase awareness of our services to treat more eligible survivors of intimate partner violence in need. Volunteers and supporters who make it all possible: you are sincerely honored.

You are invited to learn more about this year's accomplishments by taking the time to read this report. On behalf of the AACDCF Board of Trustees and all of the courageous survivors of intimate partner violence who need GBAS services, thank you for making our work possible.

ACTUAL GBAS PATIENT

SARA'S STORY

"Sara's" (For confidentiality purposes, the patient's name has been changed) experience with domestic violence began in her childhood, where she endured severe emotional abuse from her father. Domestic violence resurfaced when she married her second husband, who abused her emotionally. Then the abuse got physical when he started to use cocaine.

ACTUAL GBAS PATIENT

“Physical abuse changes you in a strange way. It takes your sense of power and confidence away. You lose a sort of innocence. I had always been fit and healthy and coordinated. I think that I fantasized that I could always handle myself in any sort of situation. (Perhaps I would suddenly morph into Wonder Woman and be able to take care of myself!) To find out with brutal, physical in-your-face immediacy that you indeed can't take care of yourself kills a part of your spirit. Realization that it came from my husband was agony beyond betrayal. A part of me has been afraid ever since.

Physical violence uber-sensitizes you to violence in everything. A normal person would never even notice. Suddenly I couldn't listen to rock music. I couldn't watch TV for months. Seemingly innocent cartoons, normal shows, and commercials can contain subliminal violence that you would never pick up on normally. Things would upset me terribly out of the blue. That lost sense of naiveté is what hurt the most; changed me the most. ”

~Sara

After leaving her abusive husband for good, Sara was referred to Give Back a Smile (GBAS) volunteer Amanda Seay, DDS. After a long journey, Dr. Seay and her team restored Sara's smile. When asked about her volunteer experience Dr. Seay stated, "I have been volunteering since I finished dental school but it is often for underprivileged individuals with no understanding of oral health or access to any dental health provider. With GBAS, the victims need restoring for entirely different reasons. To see how afraid Sara was of everyone, including us, was sad to see. It made me keenly aware that there are so many victims like Sara we may never hear about or meet, and repairing their smile is sometimes the first step."

"I don't even know how to begin trying to say 'thank you'. You're a wonderful, kind, generous angel who I will never forget. You saved me. What for so long seemed impossible, now exists. I have a mouth full of gorgeous, healthy teeth. They are just so gorgeous! The incredible feeling of relief from the debilitating embarrassment I felt. The depression and hopelessness I've isolated myself with, is gone. I finally feel like myself again." ~Sara

GBAS thanks Sara for sharing her story, and the entire dental team who restored her smile.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS: Smile restored by Dr. Amanda Seay and team. Laboratory work donated by Signature Dental Studio. Periodontal treatment donated by Dr. Jenna Lohse.

AFTER

GBAS guidelines only allow for the repair/restoration of dental injuries within the smile-zone. It is the volunteer dentist's discretion to treat beyond the smile-zone.*

VIRTUAL RACE PARTICIPANTS

RACE FOR SMILES

The second annual Race for Smiles 5K Run/Walk resulted in a huge success for GBAS! This year's race, which was Oct. 6 in Madison, WI, also offered athletes the chance to participate virtually. Approximately $5,000 was raised from both events.

Seventy-nine participants completed the 5K in Madison, and took part in a silent auction to benefit GBAS afterward.

Runners and walkers in Madison were joined in spirit by 43 others, who chose to participate in the virtual Race for Smiles, allowing them a chance to run or walk a 5K in any location and support GBAS.

Thank you to everyone who supported the race by participating or sponsoring!
