

BIOGRAPHY

My name is Errin DePalma and I am a general dentist in the small coastal town of Berlin, Maryland. Dentistry has been a dream of mine since I was a young teenager, although I have no family members who are dentists. I loved my pediatric dentist and worked in his office while I was in high school. In dental school, I met my husband and we married after graduation. We settled in Berlin after working for a couple years in Pennsylvania for a large group practice. There we realized how, or really how we didn't, want to practice dentistry. So after 2 years of long work weeks that increased our experience and confidence as a dentist, we moved to a beach town where we knew no one and started a practice from scratch. Fourteen years later we have grown our practice from a 2 operator office into an 8 operator practice. We have 2 children, a son Michael who is 13 years old and a daughter McKenna who is 10 years old. We live 5 miles from the Ocean City beaches and enjoy spending most of our summer weekends there with friends and family surfing, paddle boarding, and cooking out. My main interests are spending time with my family and traveling. We take many family vacations throughout the year and have travelled with our children to Spain, Ireland, Hawaii and the Grand Canyon, and we have many future travel plans including Costa Rica, Yellowstone and an African Safari in the year 2021! I am active in my local catholic church and my children's school where I volunteer on my days off.
