

Barry D. Hammond, DMD, Professor in the Department of General Dentistry at the Dental College of Georgia (DCG) at Augusta University, earned his dental degree from the Medical University of South Carolina in 1986 and completed a two-year general practice residency at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill, N.C. He maintained a private practice for 17 years, emphasizing restorative and esthetic dentistry. Dr. Hammond is an L.D. Pankey Institute alumnus and taught for several years with the Ross Nash Institute for Dental Learning in Charlotte, N.C. He joined the Augusta University faculty in 2006 where he teaches in the undergraduate dental program, provides patient care in the DCG Dental Faculty Practice Group, and serves as the Director of Dental Continuing Education.